

COLLECTIVE GIVING, SHARED PURPOSE

MCDONOGH FUND

At McDonogh, students are transformed.

From the moment their educational journey begins, our students build strong academic skills and develop a deep sense of character that has been true to a McDonogh education from the very beginning. Inspired by outstanding teachers, today's students learn to be excellent communicators, form questions and solve problems, and adapt, lead and think for the good of their communities both local and global. They do so in an environment that honors tradition and embraces innovation.

The experience of being on this campus—learning from exceptional faculty and being part of this diverse community—makes an impact that lasts a lifetime. As a result, our students are forever changed. Alumni carry with them a curiosity that inspires ongoing learning, a deep sense of community, and a commitment to caring for themselves and others—always seeking to do the “greatest possible amount of good.”

The McDonogh Fund is vital to this transformational experience.

A gift to the McDonogh Fund is not just a gift to the school, and it is more than just about our teachers, students, buildings, and equipment. A gift to the McDonogh Fund is an investment in our children. It is a commitment to the promise of the future and the good that McDonogh students will do in the world.

The McDonogh Fund provides unlimited opportunities. It allows our teachers and administrators to dream big and innovate. It allows our students to experiment and try new things.

Every gift to the McDonogh Fund is an investment in the school's mission and the important work of educating the next generation. The collective impact of these gifts is remarkable and makes transformation possible.

Through the Legacy Campaign, we seek to raise $20 million (cumulatively) for the McDonogh Fund so that opportunities and hope remain unlimited for our students. Your support of the McDonogh Fund will make an impact that is immediate and enduring.
